Palo Pinto County 4-H

About 4-H

Palo Pinto County 4-H and the 4-H clubs in Palo Pinto County are part of the Texas 4-H Youth Development Program which is conducted by the Texas A&M AgriLife Extension Service.

Here is some information about 4-H and the enrollment process:

4-H Year

September 1st—August 31st

Youth Age Requirements

Youth may participate in 4-H from September 1st of grade three through August 31st following completion of grade twelve, with these age restrictions:

- o Minimum age - 8

(as of September 1, 2024, in addition to being in the 3rd grade)

- o Maximum age - 18

Clover Kids

The Texas A&M AgriLife Extension Service extends a limited version of the 4-H experience to youth in grades K-2 as “4-H Clover Kids.” This age category is further defined as youth who are eligible to enroll in Kindergarten on September 1 of the current year and have not entered (started classes) the third grade on September 1. Clover Kids are not eligible to serve as club officers, nor are they eligible to participate in activities, recognition programs, and competitive events reserved for older youth. Palo Pinto County 4-H does offer some non-competitive opportunities for Clover Kids.

Adult Volunteers

All 4-H adult volunteers must complete a 4-H volunteer application each year. To continually guarantee the safety of the members during 4-H participation, adult volunteers working directly with youth must complete a criminal background check and complete required online trainings.

Yearly Enrollment/Re-Enrollment Requirement

Each year on August 15th all membership in Texas 4-H goes to inactive and all youth and adult volunteers must enroll or re-enroll. A youth that is 8 years old and going into the 3rd grade must wait until September 1st to enroll for proper fees to be accessed. The Texas 4-H year officially starts on September 1.

Get Involved

Palo Pinto County 4-H Clubs

When you join 4-H, you pick a 4-H club. Members are encouraged to get involved with their 4-H club. 4-H clubs in Palo Pinto County meet monthly during the school year. Palo Pinto County currently has the following clubs:

Gordon 4-H Club
Graford 4-H Club
Mineral Wells 4-H Club
Palo Pinto County 4-H Shooting Sports Club
Santo 4-H Club
Strawn 4-H Club
Sturdivant 4-H Club (Located in Mineral Wells)

What does a 4-H club do?

It elects its own officers and conducts its own business. The club group usually has a president, vice president(s), secretary, treasurer, reporter and may have a historian or parliamentarian. The group discusses business and makes plans for activities. In addition, each meeting usually includes some kind of special educational program. The special program can be demonstrations by members, talks by members, parents or resource person(s), or anything else that interests the group.

Clubs also participate in community service projects, tour interesting places and learn interesting things. 4-H'ers learn leadership skills by planning club activities and by being officers in their clubs. Older 4-H members act as teen leaders, assisting adult volunteers with projects and activities for younger members. 4-H members also attend camps, contests and conferences at the county, district, state and national levels.

What is a 4-H Project?

The 4-H method is “learn by doing.” Members complete learning experiences called 4-H projects. A project is a subject or area of interest that the 4-H member wants to learn more about. There are more than 40 areas that are supported by project materials, but a member may also choose from other areas.

Please note, various projects may have specific deadlines for participation. If you are interested in a specific project, please be sure to ask about the requirements. For example, livestock and rabbit projects have tag-in requirements. The shooting sports project has a mandatory safety meeting held once per year.
